

SHRED STATION

Simon Shred goes to the doctor's

Simon the Shredder travels wide and far,
But this truck isn't like any regular car!

An illustration of an NHS building entrance. The building is yellow with a grey roof. Above the entrance is a grey sign that says 'WELCOME' in white capital letters. Above that is the 'NHS' logo in blue. The entrance consists of two glass doors. A female doctor in a white coat and blue skirt stands in the left door, waving her right hand. A male patient in a blue V-neck shirt and blue trousers stands in the right door, waving his right hand. There are green bushes on either side of the entrance and a light-colored path leading to the doors. The sky is blue with stylized clouds.

NHS

WELCOME

He's big and he's busy and drives all day through.
He sees doctors and nurses and might even see you!

Simon's not at the doctor's for illness – oh, no.
He hasn't a cough, nor a tickly nose.

Simon is here for something different instead,
He's got no broken bones and no bump on his head!

Simon's here to shred paper. Oh, what a treat!
Paper is Simon's favourite thing to eat.

He eats papers, prescriptions, and even X-rays,
And that's how he spends the best part of his days.

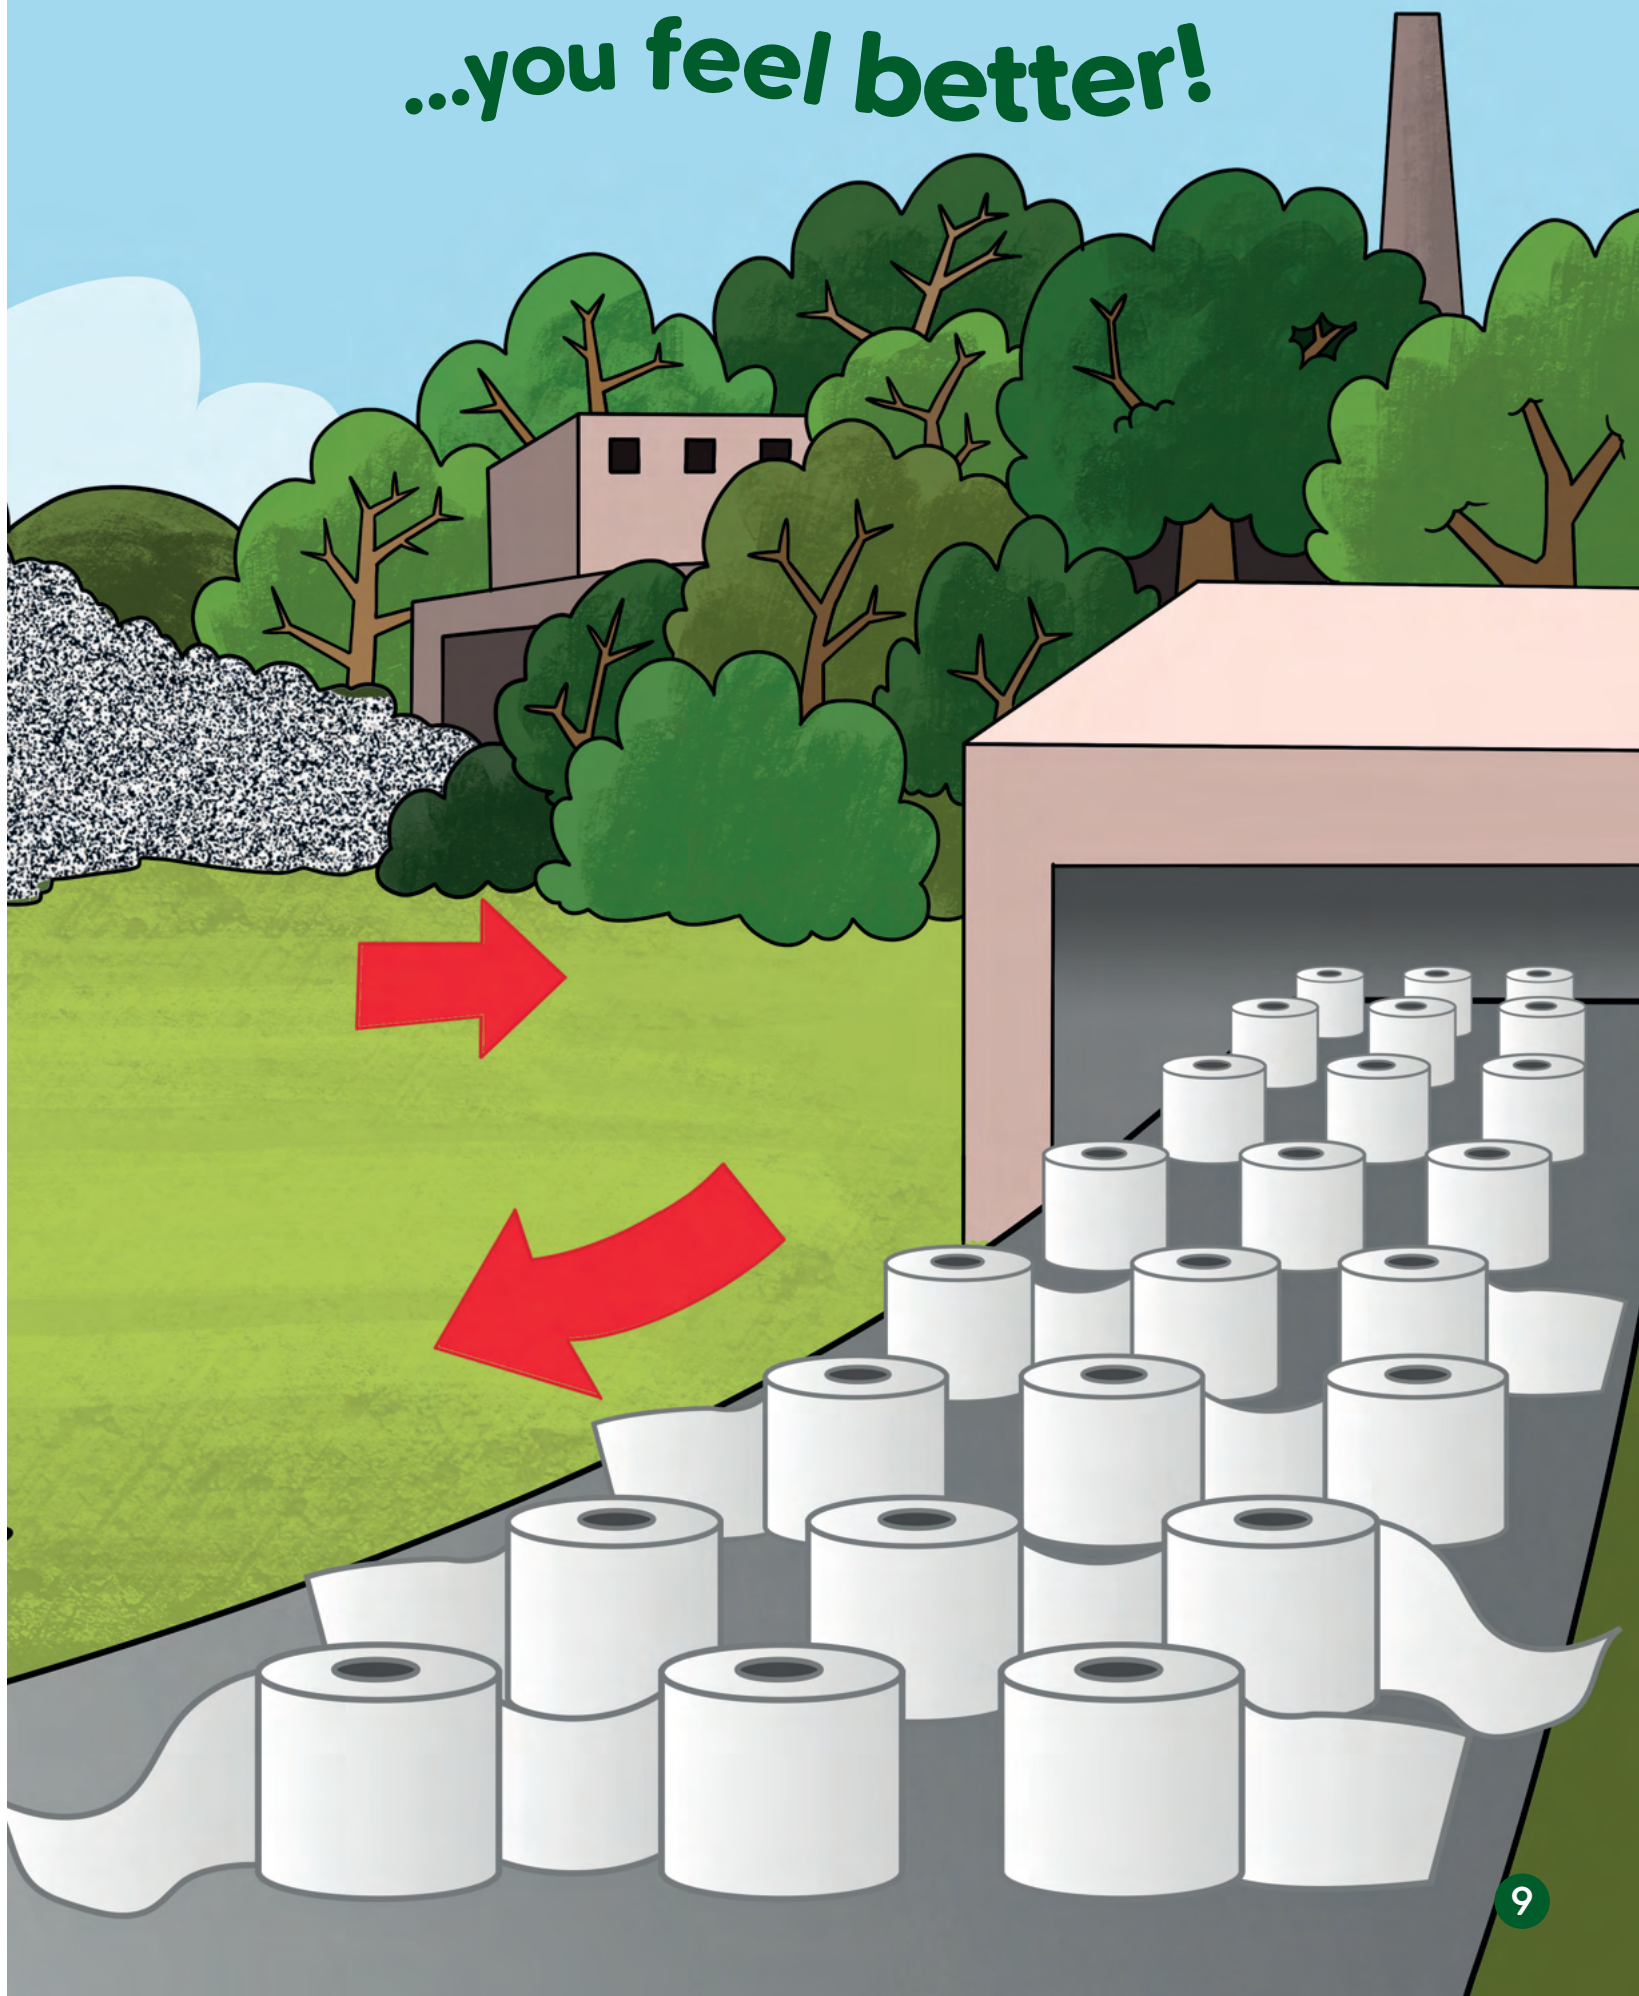

Best of all, he recycles the paper he munches
So Simon saves trees just by eating his lunches!

Simon says, “please recycle every paper and letter”,
But, most of all, Simon says he hopes...

...you feel better!
